

Martin's Big Words

by Doreen Rappaport

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.'s words taught us about the importance of tolerance and acceptance of all people. He taught us that we are all equal with the same basic human rights, regardless of how we look or where we come from. Why do you think it's important to accept people for who they are? Write to Character Ed and tell him about it!

